

Giving is good! – Audi Hungaria's Christmas donations make the holidays brighter

- Audi Hungaria employees again joined forces to help those in need
- Hundreds of donation packages and pledges received to help the needy

Győr, December 16, 2025 – Audi Hungaria employees set an example of help and solidarity again this year: they collected a large amount of donations for people in need as part of the “Giving is good!” Christmas fundraising campaign. The donations were handed over at the FogADÓ Donation Centre in Győr to brighten up the holidays of people living in difficult circumstances.

The fundraising was actively supported not only by the employers but also by the employee representatives of Audi Hungaria and Audi Hungaria AHEAD. Thanks to this fundraising campaign, the employees of the Four Rings factory collected hundreds of durable food items, hygiene kits and baby supplies, as well as books, toys and clothing. The company has traditionally donated the collected donations to the FogADÓ Donation Centre in Győr, with which it has been carrying out a number of social campaigns for years. The packages are given to large families, single parents, the homeless and the elderly.

For Audi Hungaria, social responsibility is a core value. The company supports educational, cultural and social institutions in the region and organises a number of volunteer programmes.
